Select Board, Finance Committee and residents weigh-in on Wildwood building project

By LIZZY HILL
News Correspondent

WILMINGTON — The Select Board invited Wildwood building project designer Dore + Whittier to present and receive feedback from other town committees and residents at their meeting on Monday, Aug. 19. Chair Greg Bendel clarified that there was no vote being made that night by this board, but it was their intention to allow the public to comment relative to the preferred building option.

After the presentation by Dore + Whittier, Lilia Maselli asked why the North site was preferred over perhaps the town hall site. Lee Dore explained that the North site is the largest and it provides a minimal impact to ongoing school operations and abutters.

Maselli also wondered when the town could enter another project with the MSBA, and Dore said the MSBA typically only reimburses a town for one project at a time.

Frank West pointed out that naming this the "Wildwood project" doesn't include the schools being consolidated. He wondered what sort of cost savings would be made within the school department budget once this building replaces three buildings.

Superintendent Dr.

Glenn Brand answered that they would take a refined look at staffing needs once the building is operational, but they anticipated some reduction in places and the creation of new positions such as a STEM teacher.

Kevin Caira mentioned the proposed delay in deciding on the preferred option. He also suggested a new option where a new pre-k through grade three building is built at the North.

Town Manager Eric Slagle explained that he and the superintendent sent a memo to the Wildwood School Building Committee suggesting they delay the vote on a preferred option from

Aug. 20 to Oct. 1 after discussion. They would use the extra time as an opportunity for the community to provide feedback.

Dore replied to Caira's suggestion that they could consider this option, but the MSBA would have to be informed, and they may be inclined to ask the town to reapply.

Finance Committee member Brad Jackson asked if the site issues at the Wildwood and Woburn Street sites could reach the maximum that the MSBA would reimburse. Dore stated that it was close to it, as the retaining walls alone for the Woburn Street would cost $3.8 million.

Jackson further proposed that reducing from three schools to one school would provide cost savings in terms of staff — for example, having just one principal instead of three — and it may encourage more students to attend school in Wilmington.

Jesse Fennelly stated on behalf of the School Committee that they would support the recommendation of the WBSC, but their preference was the new building for pre-k through grade five. He said that the SC saw this as an opportunity to provide the best education, remove unnecessary burdens on families, and provide a footprint for a similar project for the other side of town.

Stephen Turner added that their intentions were to both provide the best education and be fiscally responsible. He explained how the three schools this building would replace are physically old and difficult to maintain, and they can't support the educational demands of the students.

There is also extra disruption for students moving schools, the time and cost for the bus, and staffing issues with operating this many schools. He assured the board that residents would support and embrace the pre-k through grade five

School Committee receives MSBA project update

By LIZZY HILL
News Correspondent

WILMINGTON — The School Committee met on Monday night at 5 p.m. over Zoom to receive a presentation on the MSBA project from designer Dore + Whittier.

Rani Philips of Dore + Whittier reminded the community that the project is currently in the feasibility study phase. In order to create potential options, they held a series of educational visioning meetings where they developed priorities for a new space and created a summary of proposed spaces to meet building and educational needs.

This insight, in addition to a desire to extend pre-kindergarten to a whole day option and add STEM learning, led to the creation of 18 total options.

The Wildwood School Building Committee then worked with Dore + Whittier to whittle these options into a short list of seven, and they were currently looking for one option to be studied in greater detail to further develop the cost estimate. This was done by evaluating each option according to a set of criteria.

The short list of seven options were provided to the MSBA along with the preliminary design plans. In response to this plan, the MSBA proposed slightly smaller spaces, and they only agreed to reimburse part of the cost of up to a 6,000 square foot gym.

The potential pre-k through grade five new building at the North Intermediate School site would include a 12,000 square foot gymnasium, several playgrounds and extra green space, and emergency access around the entire building. The projected cost for this building was $198 million, with the potential local share at about $130 million.

The option for an addition/renovation at the North to accommodate pre-k through grade five would include a four-story building with the 12,000 square foot gym with significant disruption to the operating school. The potential local share here was closer to $122 million.

To build a new pre-k through grade three building at the Woburn Street School site, they would also disrupt operations and input retaining walls to accommodate circulation. The potential local share here, considering that they would also have to renovate the current North Intermediate School for around $30 million, was projected to be $133 million.

A replacement of the current Wildwood with a new pre-k and kindergarten school would also require retaining walls but not disrupt operations since the building isn't in use. They also included an option for an addition or renovation at the Wildwood instead.

This would cost the town over $20 million and none of it would be reimbursed by the MSBA.

According to the criteria, the top-rated option was the new pre-k-grade five school at the North, followed by pre-k-5 addition or renovation at the same site. The projected cost per square foot of a new building was estimated at

2024 FEDERAL EXEMPTION AND EXCLUSION AMOUNTS

Starting January 1, 2024, the federal lifetime gift and estate tax exemption amount has increased to $13.61 million per person. This increased exemption amount means that individuals can transfer up to $13.61 million tax-free during their lives or at death, and married couples can transfer up to $27.22 million. It also means that, even if you have already gifted away your full exemption amount of $12.92 million in 2023, you have up to an additional $690,000 to give away in 2024 (or an additional $1.38 million for married couples).
The annual gift tax exclusion amount also has increased from $17,000 per person in 2023 to $18,000 per person in 2024 (or $36,000 for married couples choosing to split gifts).
It is important to note that the increased federal gift and estate tax exemption amounts are set to expire on December 31, 2025, under the 2017 Tax Cuts and Jobs Act. Unless there are legislative changes, the exemptions will revert to $5 million per person, adjusted for inflation, starting January 1, 2026. Depending on the 2024 election outcomes, there could be additional changes to the federal lifetime gift and tax exemption amounts. In the meantime, it is wise to consider gifting now while the exemption amounts are higher, and gifting earlier in the year.

New England offers quality, local peaches

By HEATHER BURNS
News Correspondent

One of the best treats of this season has to be fresh, local peaches.

The soft and fuzzy, reddish-orange skin of a peach is the perfect camouflage for the sweet and juicy flesh that awaits inside, offering up that distinctive flavor of summer.

Although the state of Georgia is famous for their locally grown peaches, surprisingly there are many New England farms that grow peach crops that are now in peak season until early September.

Peaches make a great addition to your summer diet. You can enjoy their sweet and juicy taste on their own, but they also offer themselves nicely in your favorite pie and cobbler recipes, as well as an addition to breakfast cereals, yogurt and granola, and smoothies.

Peaches are also great for canning and preserving, which allows you to enjoy this summer treat year round.

During the month of August, locally grown peaches are available at most farmer's markets, farm stands, and local peach orchards.

A great way to get that fresh from the tree flavor to your table is to visit a "Pick Your Own" orchard. Luckily, there are two local farms in our area offering "Pick Your Own" peaches while supplies last.

Parlee Farms, located at 95 Farwell Road in Tyngsboro, has been open for the "Pick Your Own" experience since 1988, and offers 15 varieties of free-stone peaches, all sold by the peck box (10-12 lbs).

Parlee also offers over 20 varieties of Pick Your Own apples starting in late August until late October.

Harvest for peaches runs from early August until early September.

After last year's devastating peach crop loss due to unexpected harsh spring weather, Parlee is experiencing a bountiful crop this season that will not disappoint.

Hours for "Pick Your Own" change daily, so it is advised to check on their website www.parleefarms.com for current conditions and picking hours in the orchard before you make the trip there.

For those not interested in picking your own fruit, but you still want that tree ripened flavor, you can visit Parlee's Farmstand and Country Kitchen.

The Farmstand and Country Kitchen offers fresh picked corn and other seasonal vegetables, farm grown flower bouquets, bakery items, honey, jams, and of course, fresh picked peaches and seasonal fruits.

There is also Annie's Animal Barn, featuring friendly goats, sheep, chickens, and bunnies to delight young and old alike.

Farmstand hours are

Tuesday through Saturday, 8 a.m. - 2:30 p.m., Sunday 8 a.m. - 1 p.m., Closed Monday.

Smolak Farm, located at 315 South Bradford St. in North Andover also offers a "Pick Your Own" peach experience. This farm has been operated by the Smolak family for generations, and is currently run by Michael Smolak, and his son- and daughter-in-law, Henry and Helen Smolak.

In 1985, Smolak Farm expanded with the addition of a farm stand and bake shop that offers plenty of freshly picked produce (including peaches) and baked items.

In 2004, an ice cream stand was added to the farm stand, making a visit to Smolak Farm a perfect summer destination.

Hours for "Pick Your Own" are from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., daily, but orchard conditions also change daily. To check the condition and hours for "Pick Your Own" peaches, visit the homepage of their website at www.smolak-farms.com.

The farm stand and bake shop are open year round from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily, and the ice cream stand is open June through September from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily.

Just like summer itself, locally grown peaches will be gone before you know it, so you better find Grandma's long-lost peach pie recipe to make the most of these delicious, tree ripened local peaches.

Whether you shop at your local farmer's market or enjoy a family outing of peach picking, the flavor of local peaches will surely enhance the remainder of your summer.

Emmaus to hold 36th annual Cycle for Shelter in Sept.

HAVERHILL — 35 years after Emmaus' founding Executive Director, Tom Bentley, completed the first ride, a 1,200-mile journey from Georgia to Massachusetts visiting more than 100 programs serving homeless and impoverished families and individuals, Emmaus is celebrating its 36th Cycle for Shelter on Sunday, Sept. 15.

Cycle for Shelter, the longest-running charity ride in Northeastern Massachusetts and an event the whole community looks forward to each year, has raised more than $2.2 million for Emmaus.

Carlie Hornbrook, the Emmaus Development Director, commented that "Cycle for Shelter has a very loyal group of supporters. Our cyclists and volunteers return year after year because they care deeply about helping the families and individuals who are our guests and clients. Each cyclist or volunteer has their own reason for supporting Emmaus and you'd be surprised to learn how many people have a story of their own about overcoming homelessness."

This year, riders can choose from four different routes to cycle: The Century Ride (100 miles), 62 miles, 35 miles, or 15 miles (the Family ride). These routes tour the picturesque New England coastline, woodlands and farms with well-stocked rest stops along the way.

Cyclists are accompanied by route support vehicles to ensure their safety on every route. Riders can participate virtually, if they cannot attend the in-person event. Cyclists with pedal assist bicycles are also welcome.

The ride starts and finishes at Northern Essex Community College in Haverhill, and all riders will return to the college for a cookout with a wide variety of foods donated by local restaurants and a craft beer tent for cyclists 21 and over. The event offers a low registration fee and fundraising commitment. Each individual rider pledges to raise a minimum of $250, and family teams of up to five members will have a combined fundraising minimum of $300.

The conversations Tom had along his journey, led Emmaus to create pioneering programs for homeless families and individuals in our region. Since that first ride, more than 5,000 cyclists and volunteers have helped Emmaus raise critically needed funds through Cycle for Shelter. This year, Emmaus hopes to have close to 150 cyclists participate in-person and raise $200,000 for the organization.

Sponsors for the event include Presenting Sponsors Merrimack Valley Credit Union and International Cars Ltd; Premier Bike Shop Sponsor Riverside Cycle; Volunteer Sponsor Haverhill Bank; and Event Sponsor Cedar's Mediterranean Foods.

Sponsorship opportunities are still available and riders are welcome to sign up at any time! Visit the Cycle for Shelter website at www.emmausinc.org/cycle-for-shelter-2 for more information, to sign up, to donate or volunteer.

Founded in 1985, Emmaus, Inc. is a non-profit organization devoted to helping families and individuals rebuild their lives. Emmaus has helped more than 40,000 children and adults out of homelessness and into permanent housing. This past year alone, Emmaus helped 1,259 people, over 500 of whom were children, find a solution to homelessness. On any given night, 300 adults and children will call Emmaus "home."

Located in Haverhill, Emmaus is the largest provider of emergency shelter in Essex County. In addition to its emergency shelters for families and individuals, Emmaus owns and operates 99 units of permanent affordable housing, serves more than 80,000 meals annually, provides food on a regular basis to those residing in Emmaus housing, and provides career services assistance and other supportive services.

For more information about Emmaus and Cycle for Shelter, please call Susan Blyth, Associate Development Director at (978) 241-3450 or visit www.emmaus-inc.org.

Book Stew Review

'Help Wanted' by Adelle Waldman

By EILEEN MACDOUGALL

I'm a fangirl of workplace novels, but it's a rare one that tells stories of hourly workers. This one, set in a fading big box store in a fading Catskill town, seems real in the most depressing sense: long hours, irregular schedules, difficult physical labor, lack of a union, no other jobs to be had.

The overnight "Movement Crew" unloads heavy boxes, sorts, and puts the incredible variety of items into their designated displays. As WalMart is mentioned as an even worse workplace, and Amazon is blamed for their low wages, a reader might assume that the store is a Target.

The author is totally invested in the lives of the nine crew members and in their managers, all as pawns in the corporate game. When a well-like manager is moved to a more prosperous Connecticut location, an internal plot is hatched to ruin the promotion chance for a widely disliked micromanager.

Each of the co-conspirators has a discouraging back story, including of lack of education, commission of petty crimes, and stasis. They all are vividly and empathetically portrayed as the "true Americans," assumedly Trump-aligned (though there are no politics discussed) and the bearers of ill fortune due to their inability to make any headway.

This is as memorable as the dustbowl depression journey of the Joad family in The Grapes of Wrath.

Litton completes intensive research project at WPI

WORCESTER — Brady Litton, a member of the class of 2026 majoring in Physics at Worcester Polytechnic Institute (WPI), was a member of a student team that recently completed an intense research project titled Uncovering the Bar Island Trail: A Study on Visitor Dynamics.

At WPI, all undergraduates are required to complete a research-driven, professional-level project that applies science and technology that addresses an important societal need or issue.

About two-thirds of students complete a project at one of the university's 50-plus off-campus project centers, which are located around the world. A signature element of the innovative undergraduate experience at WPI, the project-based curriculum offers students the opportunity to apply their scientific and technical knowledge to develop thoughtful solutions to real problems that affect the quality of people's lives-and make a difference before they graduate.

"The WPI project-based curriculum's focus on global studies brings students out of the classroom and their comfort zones and into the global community to apply their knowledge and to solve problems," said Professor Kent Rissmiller, professor of Integrative & Global Studies and associate dean of The Global School. "Students are immersed in all aspects of a different culture, from the way people live and work to the values they hold to the foods they eat — all valuable perspectives for surviving and thriving in today's global marketplace. They also learn the meaning and magic of teamwork; make a real and meaningful difference in their host community; and gain a competitive edge for any resume, or graduate or professional school application."

About Worcester Polytechnic Institute

WPI, a global leader in project-based learning, is a distinctive, top-tier technological university founded in 1865 on the principle that students learn most effectively by applying the theory learned in the classroom to the practice of solving real-world problems.

WPI offers more than 70 bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degree programs across 18 academic departments in science, engineering, technology, business, the social sciences, and the humanities and arts. www.wpi.edu

OBITUARY

Kenneth Paul Kane Enlisted in US Air Force

Kenneth Paul Kane, age 79, passed away peacefully on July 26, 2024, in Melrose, after a long illness.

He was born on Jan. 1, 1945, in Framingham, to the late Frances B. (Murray) Kane and William H. Kane. He was a long-time resident of Cochituate, Framingham, and Wilmington.

Ken, a proud veteran and American, graduated from Wayland High School (Class of 1962) and UMass Amherst (Class of 1966.) He enlisted in the U.S. Air Force and served as an Electronic Warfare Officer, then Captain, in the Strategic Air Command on B-52s.

His service was a source of great pride for him. Ken later worked in various roles, including real estate, home remodeling, and house painting.

Ken's life was a testament to finding joy in the simple things. From skiing in Vermont to good times on the Cape, golfing at various courses in New England, playing ball at the Cochituate ballfield, skating on Dudley Pond, taking drives in his beloved Volkswagen Jetta while listening to the Beach Boys or Roy Orbison, cherishing moments with his son, daughter, and son-in-law, to cheering on his grandkids, he found happiness in the everyday.

Ken is survived by his loving children Corey Kane and Karin (Kane) Bloom; his son-in-law Kraig Bloom; his grandchildren Sydney and Miranda Kane, Dillon, Kiley, and Bridget Bloom; his sister Katherine Ann (Kane) Jones; sister-in-law's Audrey Kane and Betsy Kane; and many dear nieces and nephews.

He was predeceased by his brothers, William Kane and Terrence Kane, and his ex-wife, Joanne Kane.

In Ken's memory, we encourage you to help a veteran or donate blood. May Ken rest in eternal peace and fly high.

Deceased's funeral arrangements in early August, a private graveside service was held in Ken's honor at St. Zepherin's cemetery.

Scranton, Pennsylvania: Lifestyle

THE ELECTRIC CITY

By ROSALYN IMPINK
News Correspondent

Tucked in the northeast corner of Pennsylvania above the Pocono Mountains, Scranton, a former industrial powerhouse during World War II, earned its name as the Electric City when it became one of the first cities in the country to become electrified.

Most people will be familiar with Scranton as the setting of the Dunder Mifflin Paper Company on the hit NBC sitcom "The Office." The Pennsylvania Paper and Supply Company in downtown Scranton served as inspiration for the show and appears in the opening credits, as does the iconic "Scranton Welcomes You" sign.

Originally located on the expressway, "Office" fans were stopping along the side of the road to take pictures, so the city moved the sign to the Marketplace at Steamtown, where visitors can safely check out a piece of television history.

The Lackawanna County Visitors Bureau has a great self-guided tour featuring notable "Office" locations to steer your visit. Two murals pay tribute to the show: a 27-foot tall depiction of the show's main cast on Lackawanna Avenue, and a painting of Dwight Schrute on the side of the On & On Vintage Marketplace.

The marketplace features dozens of vendor stalls selling handcrafted items and thrifted finds. Vinyl fans will be excited to comb through stacks of records to find hidden gems.

If your treasure hunting leaves you thirsty, Retro Cafe across the street offers a fun range of coffee and cold drinks for all ages. Just five minutes away, Downtown Deli & Eatery is also a great place to stop for lunch or breakfast — the cheeseburgers are as big as your head and outdoor seating is plentiful.

You can't get far in Scranton without finding a reference to the city's most famous native son: President Joe Biden was born and spent the first ten years of his life in Scranton, living in his grandfather's house on North Washington Avenue in the Green Ridge district.

Biden has visited several times on presidential campaigns — most recently last April — and the current owners invite visitors to take a picture of the 46th president's childhood home. While Biden's former home is a modest three-story Colonial, the neighborhood — which extends past Marywood University — boasts some impressive historic Colonial Revival homes that architecture buffs will enjoy.

If you're looking to enjoy Pennsylvania's great outdoors, Scranton offers plenty of opportunity. The Lackawanna River Heritage Trail stretches 70 miles, providing a serene, wooded path for walking and cycling alongside unique architecture and historic sites.

Nay Aug Park features an impressive wooden tree house overlooking the Nay Aug Gorge and Waterfall, a National Natural Landmark designated by the National Park Service. Trails abound for visitors to discover hidden gems, including gardens, a mine, and rushing river views.

The Everhart Museum

on the property also features the region's art and history.

There's more Pennsylvania history to explore nearby. The Anthracite Heritage Museum digs deep into the region's mining roots, discussing both the history of Appalachian coal and textiles, as well as the stories of the immigrants who built these industries.

Train lovers should be sure to hit the Steamtown National Historic Site, a museum and rail yard with authentic historic locomotives. Enthusiasts of all ages will have a blast learning about Pennsylvania's rail history and exploring dozens of trains from across the decades.

Excursions are offered throughout Northeast Pennsylvania with guided tour narration — riding through fall foliage or a bright summer day on a historic train is a must.

Whether you're a history buff, nature lover, or pop culture superfan, there's something for everyone in Scranton. Explore this unique corner of Pennsylvania and enjoy a trip to the Electric City.

$742-828 per square foot. School Committee member Dr. Mike Mercaldi asked if they could learn anything from towns with lower costs per square foot. Rani Philip explained that these were smaller, limited scope projects for renovation and addition only. Lee Dore of Dore + Whittier went on to explain that the fastest and cheapest way to fix all the schools is to complete only one project. He pointed out that the simple renovation of schools would not change the floor plan or accomplish any educational improvements despite the seemingly high cost. Nicholas Golden pointed to the average increased tax amount per household also proposed for each building option. While a proposed annual increase of $790 per year sounds like a lot, he added that the number would go down over time. Stephen Turner said, "Our priority is the education of the children... the cost is massively higher if we do it in phases." He also agreed the renovation options would not meet the needs of most of the town's students. David Ragsdale also pointed out the tax burden will depend on the assessed value of the house itself, so houses with higher values than the average ($684,000) will have higher increases. Dr. Jenn Bryson said that she was thrilled with the presentation. "To hear that [consolidation] could be the fastest and cheapest way to do this... it's matching what I know is what's best for kids," she continued.

Superintendent Dr. Glenn Brand stated his recommendation to pursue the new pre-k through grade five school at the North. He explained that this was based on community sentiment, a need for modernized educational facilities, improved conditions, support for teaching and learning, and equity and access for students. It would also increase social and emotional well-being and reduce duplication of resources in the district. Mercaldi agreed with the recommendation but also expressed a desire to find a way to reduce the proposed cost while still delivering a modern building. Chair Jesse Fennelly, along with Stephen Turner and Bryson, expressed a similar sentiment to pursue this school consolidation option.

grade consolidation with a new school. A member of the WSBC invited residents to attend the Aug. 27 community forum online. A few residents spoke up in favor of the new building, citing benefits to students, transportation, collaboration, accommodating special needs, saving costs over time, and minimizing building space that needs to be maintained. Kevin MacDonald proposed that the cost to renovate the current town hall into a pre-k through kindergarten school would be far below $30 million. He also suggested that people have moved out of Wilmington since the tax increase for the new high school in 2013. MacDonald asked Slagle to explain how the debt override would work. Slagle instead stated that this would be a debt exclusion, and the example provided was an exclusion of 30 years. This would require a vote at a special Town Meeting and then a local ballot before it could go through. Finance Committee member Scott Neville also added that debt exclusion tax increases are temporary, and overrides are permanent. Joe Jackson, a member of the Historical Commission, shared that there were so many students in the late 50s that in the 60s the town decided to build cheap schools as soon as possible. He suggested the town was just now fixing problems that existed from the design of these schools. George Allen proposed they take a closer look at the cost proposal and try to cut out extra unnecessary elements. He proposed that a 6,000 square foot gym would be fine — when the extra 6k square feet adds another $8.3 million to the cost — and that they may not need space for things such as occupational therapy. Turner explained later that there are some students with things like occupational therapy as part of their needs, and this is actively being provided to students at Wilmington schools today. He also said that some work happens in the hallway or they repurpose closets due to lack of appropriate space. Michelle Feeney suggested that the extra time to decide on a preferred option be used to find a more frugal option. Bendel invited residents to attend the WBSC meeting at 6:30 p.m. the next day, in person at the high school or online, where they would vote on the recommendation to postpone. He also mentioned that the public buildings, DPW, and school departments do their best with what they have to operate all of the town's schools and programs.

West Nile Virus hits local communities

By RYAN LAROCHE

Over the past couple of months, West Nile virus has popped up in local communities. On July 24, the Massachusetts Department of Public Health announced the virus had been detected in a mosquito sample collected from Burlington.

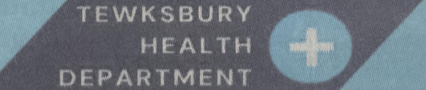

Then, on Aug. 12, the Daily Times Chronicle reported that a second mosquito sample tested positive for West Nile virus. At that point, the Massachusetts Department of Public Health raised the risk level in Burlington from low to moderate.

Even more recently, the Town of Tewksbury and the Town of Reading notified residents of a positive mosquito sample for West Nile virus collected in town. At first, the state did NOT change Tewksbury's risk level from low to moderate. However, just a day or two later, the town issued a revised public health announcement wherein the state DID change the town's risk level from low to moderate.

What does this all mean? To answer that question, we first have to figure out what West Nile virus actually is. According to mass.gov, West Nile virus is a mosquito-carried virus that can cause illness ranging from a mild fever to a more serious disease like encephalitis or meningitis. It was first identified in the United States in 1999.

Currently, several dozens communities within Middlesex County all reside in the moderate risk category. They include: Dracut, Lowell, Tewksbury, Billerica, Bedford, Burlington, Woburn, Reading, Wakefield, Stoneham, Melrose, Malden, Everett, Cambridge, Watertown, Newton, Natick, Framingham, Wayland, Marlborough, Sudbury,

Mosquito-borne Diseases in Massachusetts

West Nile Virus (WNV) and Eastern Equine Encephalitis (EEE or "Triple E") are viruses that occur in Massachusetts and can cause illness ranging from a mild fever to more serious disease like encephalitis or meningitis.

Are there different kinds of mosquitoes?

Yes. About 3000 different kinds (also called "species") of mosquitoes have been identified worldwide, with more than 150 different kinds of mosquitoes found in North America. Fifty-one different kinds of mosquitoes have been found in Massachusetts.

Where are mosquitoes usually found?

Most adults spend the day in damp, shady areas where they can find protection from the sun; some of them will even hide in your house. Mosquitoes need water to lay their eggs in and plants to hide in so they are usually found around water and plants. Mosquito eggs are laid on water or damp soil where the young mosquitoes grow and develop.

Different mosquitoes prefer different kinds of water. Some like swamps or ponds and others prefer water in swimming and wading pools, old tires, watering cans, flower pots, trash cans, etc. When the young mosquito turns into an adult, it leaves the water and flies away.

Why do mosquitoes bite?

Only female mosquitoes bite to suck blood. The female uses the blood to make eggs. Male and female mosquitoes use plant nectars and fruit juices as their main source of food.

Avoid Mosquito Bites

- Apply Insect Repellent when Outdoors
Use a repellent with an EPA-registered ingredient, such as DEET, permethrin, picaridin, or oil of lemon eucalyptus according to the instructions on the product label.
- Be Aware of Peak Mosquito Hours
The hours from dusk to dawn are peak biting times for many mosquitoes. Consider rescheduling outdoor activities that occur during evening or early morning in areas of high risk.
- Clothing Can Help Reduce Mosquito Bites
Wearing long sleeves, long pants and socks when outdoors will help keep mosquitoes away from your skin.

Remove Standing Water

- Look around outside your house for containers and other things that might collect water and turn them over, regularly empty them, or dispose of them.
- Drill holes in the bottom of recycling containers that are left outdoors so that water can drain out.
- Clean clogged roof gutters; remove leaves and debris that may prevent drainage of rainwater.
- Turn over plastic wading pools and wheelbarrows when not in use.
- Change the water in birdbaths every few days; aerate ornamental ponds or stock them with fish.
- Keep swimming pools clean and properly chlorinated; remove standing water from pool covers.
- Use landscaping to eliminate standing water that collects on your property.

Maynard, and Stow.

As of Monday afternoon, Winchester and Wilmington continue to reside in the low risk category.

Right now, the state identified two human cases of West Nile virus: a male in Hampden County, 40-49 years old and a male in Middlesex County, 70-79 years old. The Hampden County male's symptoms present as meningitis and the Middlesex County male's symptoms present as encephalitis.

(Hampden County encompasses Springfield and surrounding towns while Middlesex County stretches all the way to Ashby to the west and Holliston to the south.)

Both men were identified in late July. However, as reported by 22News out of western Massachusetts (wwlp.com) just last week, a second Hampden County man was reportedly identified as having contracted West Nile virus. This had not been confirmed on the state's website as of Monday

'Alien: Romulus' introduces new hero in Cailee Spaeny

By JOCELYN NOVECK
AP National Writer

"In space, no one can hear you scream," went the tagline for the original "Alien" in 1979, a terrifying thought on multiple levels. There may indeed be a scientific rationale for a space scream to be inaudible, but isn't it scarier to simply realize nobody's around to hear you? That was the case for Sigourney Weaver's Ripley, once she became the last one standing against the fearsome Xenomorph. Nobody could hear her scream — nobody human, that is — because, duh, everyone was dead. In any case, hearing won't be a problem here on Earth at any multiplex showing "Alien: Romulus," the much-anticipated new installment to the "Alien" franchise (not a sequel, but we'll get to that in a minute.) This is a very big, very (very!) loud, very jumpy horror flick, and the screams will come, and they'll be audible. Which is precisely what "Alien" fans are surely waiting for. And speaking of Ripley, no, neither she (nor Weaver) are present in this new version by Fede Alvarez, closer in feel to the horror roots of Ridley Scott's original than James Cameron's more action-focused 1986 "Aliens." But now we have Rain Carradine, played by rising star Cailee

Spaeny ("Priscilla"), a new-generation Ripley in everything but name. Spaeny takes up the mantle of badass space fighter with aplomb, and is easily the best part of a movie that, like the 1979 original, is short on character development. There are many other parallels (and winking nods) to the original (Scott is a co-producer here). But like we said, don't call it a sequel. In fact it's an "interquel," which wouldn't be a bad horror film title in itself. The dictionary explains that it's neither sequel nor prequel, but rather a "mid-dlequel" between installments, known as "quels." Just kidding! It's not in the dictionary. But it's worth noting that Alvarez, in placing his movie between existing versions to form a new trilogy, yet aiming also for standalone entertainment, risks some tonal confusion. Not that you'll be able to hear your thoughts, should this occur to you. The premise is new, sort of. Alvarez, who co-wrote the screenplay with Rodo Sayagues, has said he got the idea from a deleted scene from Cameron's film, in which young kids were seen amongst workers in a mining colony, and wondering what their lives would be like when they reached their 20s. At the beginning, we find out: life is bleak indeed in the colony on Jackson's Star, owned by the worker-exploiting Weyland-Yutani firm. Rain's miner parents have died of lung ailments. They've left her a caring brother, Andy, who is actually a "synthetic," or humanoid robot. The "human" element is crucial because it allows an empathetic David Jonsson, in the role, to connect to the audience in a way that otherwise only Spaeny does — the rest of the cast is given virtually nothing to work with. In any case, the two are not long for Jackson's Star. After Rain is turned down for a travel permit to finally escape dark colony life, she and Andy join a risky venture. There's an (apparently) decommissioned space station hovering above, and if they can raid it of hardware and other loot, they can bypass the brutal wait for permits and finally make it to a new home. And so, reluctantly, the two agree to join the others — Rain's ex-boyfriend Tyler (Archie Renaux), his sister Kay (Isabela Merced), Bjorn (Spike Fearn) and Navarro (Aileen Wu) — on a bumpy flight to the Renaissance station. Surely we're not spoiling much to say that it's best not to get attached to anybody. Because, we all know what's waiting up there, afternoon. According to the risk map, any community in the moderate category means infection with West Nile virus is likely or has already occurred. Should any local community move into the high risk category, it means more people may get infected with West Nile virus. If the risk level ever reaches critical, then it means "an unusually high risk from WNV exists in your area." Should that ever occur, the state would then make situational specific recommendations. As most local communities now reside in the moderate category, this means West Nile is either likely to occur (because infected mosquitoes were found) or already has (and the state identified one human case, though the exact location of the infected patient remains unknown). According to Christine Mathis, Environmental Engineer with the Burlington Board of Health, risk levels change based on the number of positive mosquitoes and the number of positive cases. Burlington had two positive samples collected thus causing the town to move into the moderate category. West Nile virus, according to mass.gov, is most commonly spread to people through the bite of an infected mosquito. It can also be spread through blood transfusions or organ transplants. In addition, there are rare reports of West Nile virus being passed from infected pregnant or breastfeeding women to their children. As these reports are rare, the health effects on an unborn or breastfeeding baby are unclear and still being studied. At one point, back in the 2000s, the Massachusetts Department of Public Health collected reports and ran tests for West Nile virus on dead birds in order to monitor activity across the state. This method has become less useful for finding the virus. Instead, the state shifted to mosquito collection and testing to get the most reliable indication of current West Nile virus activity. Fortunately, most people who contract West Nile virus have no symptoms. Mass.gov says only about 20 percent or less will have symptoms such as fever, headache, body ache, nausea, vomiting, and sometimes swollen lymph glands. They may also develop a skin rash on the chest, stomach or back. Even less, around one percent, will develop a severe illness, including meningitis or encephalitis. These symptoms can include high fever, headache, neck stiffness, stupor, disorientation, coma, tremors, convulsions, muscle weakness, vision loss, numbness, and paralysis. These generally affect people over the age of 50. One of the main issues with West Nile virus involves the lack of visible symptoms for 80 percent of infected people, so it's very difficult to know exactly how many people have been infected. Between 2014 and 2023, mass.gov says 131 people were reported with West Nile virus infection in Massachusetts. Eight died. Protect yourself With the virus detected in mosquitoes in Burlington, Reading and Tewksbury (along with Saugus, as the town announced on July 29 the state identified West Nile virus in a bird-biting mosquito and again on Aug. 5 in a mammal-biting mosquito), everyone (even those in low risk communities like Wilmington and Winchester) should exercise caution and be prepared. The state offers tips to reduce your chances of being bitten by a mosquito: • schedule outdoor events to avoid the hours between dusk and dawn, when mosquitoes are most active. • when you are outdoors, wear long pants, a long-sleeved shirt and socks. This may be difficult to do when the weather is hot, but it will help keep mosquitoes away from your skin. • use a repellent with DEET (N, N-diethyl-m-toluamide), permethrin, picaridin (KBR 3023), IR3535 (3-[N-butyl-N-acetyl]-aminopropionic acid) or oil of lemon eucalyptus [p-menthane 3, 8-diol (PMD)] according to the instructions given on the product label. DEET products should not be used on infants under two months of age and should be used in concentrations of 30 percent or less on older children. Oil of lemon eucalyptus should not be used on children under three years of age. Permethrin products are intended for use on items such as clothing, shoes, bed nets and camping gear and should not be applied to skin. • keep mosquitoes out of your house by repairing any holes in your screens and making sure they are tightly attached to all your doors and windows. • remove areas of standing water around your home. Here are some suggestions: look around outside your house for containers and other things that might collect water and turn them over, regularly empty them, or dispose of them. drill holes in the bottom of recycling containers that are left outdoors so that water can drain out. clean clogged roof gutters; remove leaves and debris that may prevent drainage of rainwater. turn over plastic wading pools and wheelbarrows when not in use. change the water in birdbaths every few days; aerate ornamental ponds or stock them with fish. keep swimming pools clean and properly chlorinated; remove standing water from pool covers. use landscaping to eliminate standing water that collects on your property. • more information on choosing and using repellents safely is included in the MDPH Mosquito Repellents fact sheet which can be viewed online at www.mass.gov/dph/mosquito. If you can't go online, contact MDPH at (617) 983-6800 for a hard copy. Additional information can be found through doctors, nurses, health care clinics or local boards of health. To learn about the health effects of pesticides, call the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, Bureau of Climate and Environmental Health at 617-624-5757. Mosquito control in the state is conducted through 11 mosquito control districts. The State Reclamation and Mosquito Control Board oversees all nine districts. Contact information for each district can be found online at mass.gov/state-reclamation-and-mosquito-control-board-srmcb. Residents can also contact the board directly at 617-626-1700. Treatment According to the Centers For Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), there is no specific treatment for West Nile virus; instead, they recommend clinical management. Patients with severe meningeal symptoms often require pain control for headaches and antiemetic therapy for rehydration for associated nausea and vomiting. Patients with encephalitis require close monitoring for the development of elevated intracranial pressure and seizures. Patients with encephalitis or poliomyelitis should be monitored for inability to protect their airway. Acute neuromuscular respiratory failure may develop rapidly, and prolonged ventilatory support may be required. The CDC notes there are no vaccines for West Nile virus. Patients who do contract the virus should not donate blood for four months after their illness.

Relive the Magic of the 1950s with “Swinging with the Rat Pack” at Arlington's Historic Regent Theatre

Get ready to step back in time and experience the glamour and excitement of the 1950s with Swinging with the Rat Pack, a one-of-a-kind musical extravaganza that will transport you to the golden era of entertainment on Sunday, November 17th at 2:00pm. Brought to Arlington's Showplace of Entertainment by Gene DiNapoli Presents, Swinging with the Rat Pack is a nostalgic journey that pays tribute to the legendary performers who defined an era. This high-energy production features the timeless music and fun of Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin, and Sammy Davis Jr., while capturing the charisma and charm of the original Rat Pack.

In pure Dino fashion, Joe Perce strolls the stage with a martini glass glued to his hand. "I really worked on his voice," said the Manhattan school teacher who's channeled the King of Cool for more than two decades. "Then I just tried to develop his swagger and his styling." Jesse Posa, a graduate of the Tisch School of the Arts at New York University, who studied acting at the Lee Strasberg Institute, will bring the Chairman of the Board back to life on-stage. Finally, Lloyd Diamond revives Sammy Davis Jr. and his "Mr. Bojangles" dance moves. He's also appeared on "Showtime at the Apollo" and "Chappelle's Show."

You will be treated to a night of unforgettable performance as Joe, Jesse and Lloyd bring to life the iconic songs that have stood the test of time. From Sinatra's smooth crooning (Nice n' Easy, I've Got You Under My Skin and more) to Martin's playful banter (Everybody Loves Somebody, Volare and others), and Davis Jr.'s marvelous dance moves (while singing Mr. Bojangles, Candy Man and a few more) every moment is a celebration of the Rat Pack's incredible legacy with all their comedic antics included. Marilyn Monroe (Kristi Coombs, who made her Broadway debut at age 11 playing young Norma Jean in "Marilyn: An American Fable") will also pop-up in the show, possibly yanking an unsuspecting man from the audience onto the stage in order to serenade him with a song that only she might sing!

Swinging with the Rat Pack is not a concert; it is a fully immersive afternoon at the theatre that will take you to the 1950s and as Producer Gene DiNapoli says, "...they don't sing better than any other Rat Pack. What they do is interact with an audience better than anyone else, they are entertainers — fabulous entertainers. They use a lot of humor. They do a lot of schtick the way the Rat Pack did." Working together since 2004, this Rat Pack does about 50 dates a year, ranging from shows at B.B. King's in Times Square to corporate dates in Pennsylvania to surprise 80th birthday parties in the United Arab Emirates' Dubai.

This production is a must-see for anyone who appreciates the music and style of the Rat Pack era. Whether you are a lifelong fan or discovering their music for the first time, Swinging with the Rat Pack promises an afternoon of pure entertainment and nostalgia.

Tickets for Swinging with the Rat Pack are now on sale and can be purchased through The Regent Theatre website or by calling the box office. Don't miss your chance to relive the magic of the 1950s and experience the unforgettable styles of Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin, Sammy Davis Jr. and Marilyn Monroe Book your tickets today!

LOWELL — It didn't take long for the Mill City Eagles to come back from their first loss of the season.

The Eagles, an East Coast

Football League team that plays its home games in Lowell, rebounded with a 28-12 victory against the Randolph Oilers on Saturday at Cawley Stadium.

Mill City (8-1) wraps up the regular season on Saturday, Aug. 24 against the Granite State Destroyers in Manchester, N.H.

If the Eagles win against the 4-5 Destroyers, they will clinch first place in the East Coast Football League's East Conference and the top seed in the playoffs.

On Aug. 10, Mill City lost to the Valley Generals, 30-19.

Against Randolph (3-6) the Eagles trailed, 12-7 with 3:06 left in the second quarter. They responded on their next possession, with quarterback Calvin Boudreau scoring on a 1-yard keeper around the right end.

On the preceding play, Boudreau found Brendon Frost for a 36-yard catch and run before the Oilers stopped him at the one. Boudreau and Frost combined for the conversion to make it 15-12.

The half ended with a brief scuffle involving several players from both teams following an incomplete pass from the Oilers'

Jonathan Marrero to Adam Blackington on the sideline.

Officials ejected a player from each team and after the second half resumed, the Eagles added to their lead on a pair of touchdown passes from Boudreau (15 for 23, 343 yards) to Joseph Bryant.

Boudreau starred for Revere High a few years ago.

"In the first half, we were a little asleep," said Eagles coach Mike Isola. "We woke up in the second half and started playing Eagles football. At this level, there's only so much coaches can do. You have to be mature and go out and execute."

On the final play of the third quarter, Boudreau connected with Bryant for a 14-yard touchdown pass. The drive began at the Mill City 49 with a 26-yard pass from Boudreau to Frost.

With less than two minutes remaining, Boudreau added another touchdown pass to Bryant, this one for 17 yards.

On the ensuing kickoff the Eagles recovered a fumble at midfield and ran out the clock on the next play.

Mill City began the game with a six-play, 67-yard drive.

Josh Pierre-Charles capped it off with a 21-yard gain through the middle of the line into the end zone.

Zackary Cook made his first of two extra points to make it 7-0.

Late in the first quarter, Randolph's Baron Osei-Bonsu recovered a fumble at the Randolph 40.

Three plays later, Osei-Bonsu caught a 59-yard touchdown pass from Marrero. The conversion failed and the Eagles held on to a 7-6 lead.

With 3:06 remaining in the second quarter, Marrero found Jay Turner in the middle of the end zone, putting the Oilers up, 12-7.

In addition to his passing, Boudreau was also the Eagles' leading rusher, gaining 82 yards on eight carries. Josiah Martinez of Wilmington caught three passes for 127 yards.

Frost grabbed five passes for 75.

Girls finish summer by capturing Redmen Rumble

After coming off a second place finish (due to rain) in its last tournament in Woburn, the 12U Redmen Red softball team was feeling confident going into its final tournament of their season.

The tournament, the Third Annual Redmen Rumble, which was held in Tewksbury this past weekend was comprised of 12 teams, four teams from Vermont, three from Maine, and five from Massachusetts, three of which are from Tewksbury.

"This is our most diverse tournament of our season, I try to accept teams from other states to let them come to Tewksbury and enjoy our first class facilities and to show what it takes to run such a great tournament," said coach Adam Perkins, who is also the Tournament Director for TGSL Redmen Softball. This tournament would be one to remember...

The Redmen Red, who came into this tournament finishing in the top two in four out of their five last tournaments and also going in 7-1 in their last eight games, started the tournament by playing the Northern Mass Invaders on Friday night.

The Invaders got on the board first scoring one run in the first inning.

The Redmen put up two runs of their own in the bottom of the first when Addison Perkins and Brooke Dykeman both singled in which Perkins ended up scoring after an error committed by the Invaders and Dykeman scored when she stole home. The Redmen got another run in the second inning Loghan Cahill walked, stole a base, and scored on an error. After the Invaders got a run back in the third inning, the Redmen came up to bat in the bottom of the third with the top of their order up. Callie LaMarche singled, Perkins bunted for a base hit single followed by a Dykeman single. After a pass ball that scored LaMarche and an error that scored Perkins, the Redmen's #4 hitter, Mia Davis, doubled to score Dykeman. Addy Anderson then singled to score Davis giving the Redmen a 7-2 lead.

The Redmen added two more runs in the fourth inning on a Perkins double and two errors committed by the Invaders. Leah Khourie pitched great for the Redmen throwing for five innings allowing two earned runs and striking out seven Invaders batters. The Redmen defense was perfect not committing a single error and the offense was led by Perkins going 3-3 and Dykeman going 2-3. Final score of the game was 9-2.

The Redmen Red's next game was on Saturday when they faced then Bombers, a team that traveled down from Maine. After holding the Bombers to zero runs in the first inning, the Redmen put up an astonishing eleven runs in the bottom of the first, nine of them coming with two outs. In that second inning, the Redmen collected six walks and three hits.

Kaelyn Obie had a single and Addison Perkins and Leah Khourie both had two run doubles.

After an injury that took out Redmen catcher, Addison Perkins, the Redmen produced another four runs, coming from RBI groundouts by Leah Khourie and Ali Silbovitz and also an RBI single by Addy Anderson.

Obie was on the mound, only having to throw for three innings due to the team's mercy of the Bombers, 15-0. Obie only allowed one hit over those three innings while striking out 3 Bombers batters. The Redmen offense was patient at the plate, collecting ten walks and not striking out a single time. Khourie led the way with three runs batted in followed by Silbovitz and Perkins who each had two runs batted in.

"I was clearly pleased with how the girls played but losing Addison was a big blow," said Coach Perkins. "I was only hoping she would be able to play again at some point in this tournament. We need all eleven girls to win a championship so losing any would really hurt us."

After a game break, the Redmen Red team was right back on the diamond facing the Vermont Rockets, who drove four hours to play in this tournament. The Redmen put up nine runs in the bottom of the first inning while collecting nine walks in the inning but also producing three hits: an Addy Anderson two run double, a Kaelyn Obie single, and a Brooke Dykeman RBI sin-

They also had an RBI ground out by Leah Khourie. After allowing one run in the top of the second inning, the Redmen got the run right back when Loghan Cahill walked and then scored on an Ali Silbovitz single. Between the third and fourth innings, the Rockets of Vermont put up four runs bringing the score to 10-5.

The Redmen got five runs of their own in the bottom of the fourth when Mia Davis started things off with a single in which she then scored on and Addy Anderson double. Khourie and Bella Cueva each had RBI ground outs as well. Khourie was back on the mound pitching for four innings, only allowing two earned runs while striking out five Rockets batters. The Redmen offense was led by Anderson who went 2-3 with three RBI's and also Silbovitz who had three RBI's and Khourie who had two RBI's. Kayle Skinner and Loghan Cahill each collected three walks while the Redmen as a team collected 15 walks.

Final score of the game was Redmen Red 15, Vermont Rockets 5.

Going 3-0 in pool play and earning the #2 seed, the Redmen Red team was feeling confident going into elimination Sunday.

"These girls did what they needed to do in pool play and set themselves up for a great Sunday tournament run," said Coach Perkins. "Not knowing if Addison, who had a bone contusion and her arm in a sling, was going to be able to play was weighing on me but no matter which girls stepped onto the field, they would always battle."

First game on Sunday was the quarterfinals and against the same Bombers team that the Redmen played the day before.

The Redmen jumped out to an early 2-0 lead when after Loghan Cahill walked and Brooke Dykeman singled, Mia Davis then singled scoring both of them. The Bombers got one back in the top of the second inning in which the Redmen responded with a run of their own in the bottom of the second when Callie LaMarche singled, scoring Leah Khourie, who reached base on an error. The Bombers tied the game at three in the top of the fourth inning.

Bottom of that inning was big for the Redmen in which they scored seven runs. Leah Khourie started things off with a walk followed by a Bella Cueva single when Kayle Skinner put down a beautiful bunt in which scored Khourie but Skinner also reached base due to an error. Cueva scored on a passed ball and then Callie LaMarche singled followed by a Loghan Cahill bunt in which she also reached base due to an error. Brooke Dykeman then singled scoring Skinner which then brought up the Redmen's #4 hitter, Mia Davis, with the bases loaded.

On the first pitch that Davis saw, she drove the ball over the left field fence for a grand slam bringing the score to 10-3, Redmen. Khourie singled later in the inning scoring Ali Silbovitz and Addison Perkins (who was pinch running for the Redmen pitcher, Kaelyn Obie) making the score 12-3. The Redmen allowed one more run but won the game 12-4. Obie pitched great for the Redmen, only allowing one hit while striking out seven Bombers batters over five innings.

LaMarche went 2-3 at the plate, Dykeman went 3-3, Khourie added a two run single but Mia Davis was clutch, going 2-3 with 6 runs batted in.

Then came the semifinal game in which put the No. 2 seeded Redmen Red team up against the No. 6 seeded Redmen Blue team. Going into that game, the Red team was 2-0 against the Blue team this season so far.

"I have the upmost respect for the Blue team," Coach Perkins said. "It's a shame we had to play each other because someone had to lose but the winning team would move onto the championship game. We knew this would be a nail biter."

The Red team struck first in the bottom of the first inning when Addison Perkins, who was battling through her elbow injury that she received the day before and kept her out of two games, singled and then stole second base. Brooke Dykeman then reached base on an error that scored Perkins. Dykeman stole second base and then scored on an Addy Anderson single making the score 2-0 after one inning.

Leah Khourie struck out the side and then led off with a single in the second inning but was stranded. The Blue team got a run back in the top of the third inning when Izzy Lane walked and was then bunted over to second base by Gia DeGregorio. Kylie Romano then singled followed by a Peyton Conley single. Lane ended up scoring on a steal of home making the score 2-1, Red team. Bottom of the third,

Perkins started things off with a single and then stole second base. Perkins then scored due to an error by the Blue team bringing the score to 3-1. The Blue team got a run back in the top of the fifth inning when DeGregorio singled as did Romano and then with the bases loaded, Leah Sawyer walked to make the score 3-2, Red team. Top of the sixth inning is when the Blue team took the lead. With two outs in the inning, Lane singled and then scored on a DeGregorio double. DeGregorio then scored on a Redmen Red error. A Loghan Cahill diving play at second base stopped the damage at two runs scored for the Blue team. An inning later, down 4-3, the Redmen Red team's season was on the line. After a Bella Cueva line out, Kaelyn Obie stepped to the plate and doubled down the right field line. Ali Silbovitz was up next and singled to centerfield advancing Obie to third base. Lead off hitter, Callie LaMarche then doubled down the left field line scoring Obie and tying the game, 4-4. With two runners on base and one out, Addison Perkins stepped to the plate with the game and season on the line. On the very first pitch Perkins saw, she drove it to right field scoring Silbovitz and winning the game.

"I know it's my daughter but for Addison to battle through her injury and be there for her team is something I am extremely proud of her for," said Coach Perkins. "She could have easily of just said she was too injured and couldn't play but that's not in her DNA, she wouldn't have missed this game for any reason."

Perkins went 4-4 at the plate while Khourie was phenomenal on the mound throwing all seven innings, allowing three earned runs and striking out nine Redmen Blue batters.

"This was a game that I will never forget," said Coach Perkins. "This was truly a team effort and these girls proved to themselves that they will never give up and fight to the end. I feel bad for the Blue team, they deserved better, they didn't lose this game, we just happened to win it."

After such a dramatic and highly emotional game, the Redmen Red was once again onto the Championship game where they would face the No. 1 seeded Vermont Storm team who came into this tournament with only one loss on the season and had already beaten the Blue team 12-2 on Friday night.

"We knew this was going to be an absolutely tough game. So much went into semifinal game, we were either going to be too exhausted or be riding high," Coach Perkins said. "We also knew that this was our last game of this season and this team truly believes that nobody is better than us so why not go win it?"

The Redmen got the scoring going in the first inning when Addison Perkins walked, stole second, and then advanced to third on a Brooke Dykeman single. Perkins then scored on a passed ball. Mia Davis followed that up with a double that scored Dykeman. The Redmen opened things up in the second inning. Leah Khourie reached base on an error, then stole second. Bella Cueva then also reached on an error which scored Khourie. Kaelyn Obie was up next and singled scoring Cueva. Callie LaMarche and Addison Perkins both then singled to load the bases.

Up next was the No. 3 hitter, Brooke Dykeman. On a 3-1 count, Dykeman was looking for something to hit and she got it as she blasted the ball over the left centerfield fence for a grand slam making the score 8-0.

"We were literally just running on adrenaline at that point but my coaches and myself had to stay vigilant and remind these girls that this game was far from over," Coach Perkins stated.

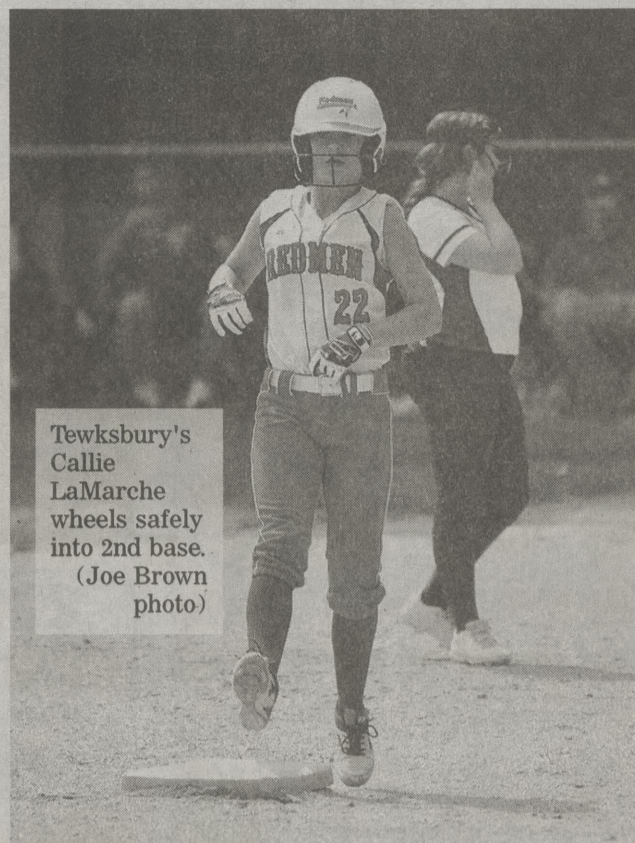

The bottom of the inning proved just that as the Storm stormed back with five runs including a grand slam of their own. The next three innings went scoreless which brought the game to the top of the sixth inning where the Redmen got another run on the board. Loghan Cahill singled followed by a Khourie single in which Cahill advanced to third base and then scored on an error.

After a couple of fielder's choice plays in the bottom of the inning, the Storm brought across two runs to make the score 9-7 going into the seventh inning. Dykeman started off the inning by reaching base on an error. Davis followed with a single to centerfield. Cahill grounded into a fielder's choice which scored Dykeman and reached second base. Khourie then singled to left field which scored Cahill after some excellent base running. Going into the bottom of the seventh inning with the Redmen leading the Storm 11-7, the Redmen were three outs away from their second championship of the season. The Redmen were asking a lot of their pitcher, Kaelyn Obie, who had already thrown well over a hundred pitches.

The Storm team was desperate and tried to come back, but simply could not against a superior team.

"I couldn't be any more proud of Kaelyn Obie, who battled with everything she had left to finish this game for her team," said Perkins. "She was amazing but she was one of eleven girls who were amazing. We do everything as a team, winning and losing. We are a family, these eleven girls along with the three Assistant coaches and myself. We believe in them and they believe in us, the way it should be."

For this particular tournament, the Redmen Red team went 6-0, scoring 67 runs while only allowing 24 runs. Addison Perkins hit a ridiculous .818, Brooke Dykeman batted .567, Kaelyn Obie batted .385 and Leah Khourie, Mia Davis and Callie LaMarche batted .375. The two pitchers, Khourie and Obie combined for 37 strikeouts and gave up 23 hits over 32.2 innings.

This was one heck of a season for the Redmen Red team. Out of six tournaments the Redmen Red entered, they won two of them, finished second in three of them (one rain shortened), and lost in the semifinals in the other one. Including scrimmages, dating back to last fall when this team first played together, their record was 37-9-1.

"I absolutely love these 11 girls, watching them grow and mature and come together as a team is what coaching is all about," said Coach Perkins. "I also have three of the best assistant coaches around. Coach Kevin Skinner, Coach Chelsea Lamarche, and Coach Shawn Anderson put in so much of their time and effort for these girls, I can't say how much I appreciate them and love having them on the field with me. I won't ever forget this team, we'll always be a family."

16U softball team rules at ALZ tourney

The 16U Redmen softball team emerged as champions at the 7th Annual ALZ Tournament, hosted at the Field of Dreams Complex in Tewksbury.

The Redmen dominated pool play with a perfect 3-0 record, overpowering Team Maine under the Friday night lights with Savannah Bankovich behind the plate, followed by back-to-back victories against Worcester Union-Ryzewski and Worcester Union-Bosse on Saturday. Their commanding performance saw them outscore their opponents by a 39-9 margin.

As Sunday dawned with rains threatening to wash away the competition, dedicated volunteers revived four fields by 11:30 a.m., resuming the last day of the tournament.

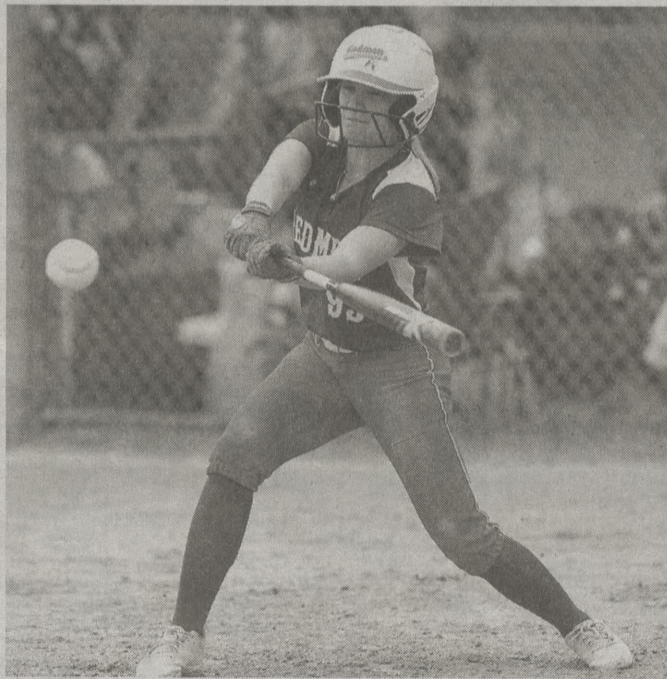

The Redmen, entering as the No. 2 seed, swiftly dispatched No. 7 seed Worcester Union-Bosse with a 10-1 victory in just 4.5 innings. Their next challenge came from the formidable Show 16U (Columbia) team, where the Redmen's nine-hit barrage secured a 5-2 win and a spot in the finals.

The championship clash against the Lynx de Laurentides from Canada promised an international showdown.

Despite the Lynx's early 1-0 lead due to an error, the Redmen roared back in the bottom of the second inning. With a rally ignited by Katie O'Keefe, Molly Kivlan, and Emmi Matta, the bases were loaded. Chelsey Quealy then delivered a game-changing, bases-clearing double to center field, putting the Redmen up 3-1.

As the game progressed, Cori Sevigny extended the lead with a solo home run, only to see the Lynx claw their way back to tie the score 4-4. The tension mounted until the bottom of the fifth, where the Redmen's middle order came alive once again. A key hit by Quealy, followed by a sacrifice bunt by Abigail Downing put Quealy in scoring position for some additional key hits by Sevigny and Maya Barry which allowed the Redmen to regain a 7-4 lead. Though the Lynx narrowed the gap to 7-6, the Redmen sealed the victory with two insurance runs in the sixth inning.

The final out came in the top of the seventh, with a ground ball to Kaley Rosado who easily threw the batter out at first. Mia McCusker pitched a gem, clinching a 9-6 triumph and the coveted tournament championship.

This unforgettable victory was a collective effort by players hailing from across the county:

Abigail Downing and Jayme Martin from Tewksbury, Maya Barry, Molly Kivlan, Mia McCusker, and Leah Hamelin from Chelmsford, Savannah Bankovich from Reading, Emmi Matta from Burlington, Chelsey Quealy from Lowell, Kaley Rosado from Dracut, Katie O'Keefe from Tyngsboro, and Cori Sevigny from Hudson, NH.
